Launched in 2014, FIA Formula 4 was created to offer young race car drivers around the world the opportunity to take the first step from karting into the world of open-wheel racing.

Designed to be globally recognized yet an affordable step between karting and F3, the F4 car was constructed to keep costs down while providing an ideal learning tool for young drivers who have never raced cars before. The series offers more value and benefits than any other form of entry-level open-wheel racing at a low cost.

In 2015, SCCA Pro Racing and the FIA combined forces to create the Formula 4 United States Championship. F4 teams and drivers are aligned with the FIA and series partners: Honda, Honda Performance Development, Ligier Automotive North America and Hankook Tires USA.

Stepping into the F4 series builds upon the progression offered from karting both on and off the track. The series offers developmental educational programs that cover everything from driving preparation to marketing and public relations.

The inaugural season included five event weekends with 15 races. A total of 19 drivers and nine teams competed over the course of the season. The field for season two doubled in size with an average of 33 cars participating in the 20-race season. Even with record-breaking grid sizes in its second season and the launch of the new F3 Americas, the car count for season three maintained an average of 31 entries per event, the largest average F4 grid size in the world. In 2019, the F4 U.S. Championship smashed another world FIA F4 entry record with 38 drivers entering the Formula One United States Grand Prix. The championship supported series like Trans Am, NASCAR and Formula 1, generating more than 350,000 race-day attendees.

Formula Pro USA Western Championship (FP4) is affiliated with the SCCA Pro Racing F4 program, competing on the same weekend as SCCA club and non-club events on the west coast. The series uses and the same Ligier JS F4 chassis and Honda Civic Type R engine as the F4 U.S. Championship. FP4 also uses similar rules and regulations as the F4 U.S. Championship.

Even with the complications and travel restrictions presented in 2020 due to the pandemic, F4 U.S. still hosted 18 rounds of racing at six FIA-supported venues across the United States, boasting healthy grid sizes throughout the season.

In 2021, Parella Motorsports Holdings (PMH), the owner of the Sportscar Vintage Racing Association and majority owner of the Trans Am Series, engaged in a partnership with SCCA Pro Racing open-wheel series, FR Americas and F4 U.S. Championship.

SCCA Pro Racing will continue to sanction both open-wheel series with operational and race management services. PMH took ownership of all commercial aspects of both series under the SpeedTour event brand starting January 1st, 2021. PMH renewed agreements with all major series partners. FR Americas and F4 U.S. will be added to the SpeedTour format, visiting premiere circuits around the United States and Canada. PMH and SCCA Pro anticipate similar grid sizes for 2021 as in previous years as new drivers commit and teams' purchase orders are being processed each week.

The F4 series is the fastest way for an aspiring driver to gain experience to an international racing platform. With driving training, unmatched affordability and strong manufacturer support, competitors can grow and succeed into the higher levels of motorsports.

Unique among this ladder category, drivers get three hours of track time most race weekends (excluding USGP), including two free practice sessions, one qualifying session and three races. Starting grids and point scoring are in accordance with global F4 series. Points earned count toward an FIA Super License. F4 is the foundation to the FIA championship ladder. Drivers have to be at least 15 to compete and hold either a C or D grade license.

MORE SEAT TIME—MORE VALUE

In an effort to attract drivers who are looking to maximize their seat time and to give teams an opportunity for a cost-effective competition package and expand their calendar dates for potential customers, PMH and SCCA Pro Racing have partnered with several organizations across the country that use the same trim and similar rules and regulations as F4 U.S.

To build on drivers' off-season development, F4 U.S., Kaizen Autosport and PMH will also host an optional rookie school at Virginia International Raceway on March 6-7. Led by F4 U.S. Race Director Scott Goodyear, the up-and-coming drivers will participate in two days of intense instruction on rules, flags, car control, skidpad work, followed by track drills and racing formatted to the FIA F4 regulations. The rookie school will tie into the official F4 U.S. and FR Americas preseason test March 8-9. Visit F4USChampionship.com for official dates and details.

Formula Pro USA Western Championship (FP4) presented by Exclusive Racing is affiliated with the SCCA Pro Racing F4 program, competing on the same weekend as SVRA SpeedTour and SCCA road racing events on the west coast. The series uses and the same Ligier JS F4 chassis and Honda Civic Type R engine as the F4 U.S. Championship. FP4 also uses similar rules and regulations as the F4 U.S. Championship. Drivers as young as 14 years old can participate in this.

The SCCA National Championship Runoffs will offer F4 U.S. drivers another opportunity to compete in their Ligier JS F4 race cars. Drivers can use two of their F4 U.S. starts to count toward qualification for the National Championship event at Indianapolis Motor Speedway in 2021. A top-three finish at the Runoffs qualifies drivers for additional contingency awards from SCCA Pro Racing and its F4 U.S. partners.

Since its inaugural season, F4 U.S. has quickly gained the attention of national and international publications as well as growing its online fan base. Press releases are sent to a variety of publications.

Cost-consciousness is core to the F4 car. Domestic-based chassis, engine, and tire manufacturers were carefully selected to keep operational cost as low as possible by eliminating import duties, freight costs and time delays that are typically associated with participating in formula racing. Each manufacturer provides on-site engineers for parts and technical support for all teams and drivers.

CHASSIS

Built in the USA, the Ligier JS F4 chassis meets FIA homologation requirements and has passed the FIA crash test. The F4 chassis is a modern, safe, robust and highly capable carbon-fiber chassis that is conducive to exceptional performance at various engine power levels. The chassis is $55,495 including paddle-shift, data acquisition and camera.

ENGINE

The selected Honda F4 powerplant is based on the Honda Civic Type R engine produced at Honda's Ohio engine plant. It is detuned to meet FIA-mandated output of approximately 160 Hp. The engine and the ECU are sealed to help with parity and compliance. The engine is leased from HPD at $7,100/year and after 3 years is owned by the lessee.

TIRES

New Formula 4 tires have been developed specifically for junior single-seater racing by Hankook engineers and their products exhibit the durability and performance demanded of a highly competitive series. Hankook has a strong foundation in other F4 championships around the world. The cost for tires are $1,200 per set (maximum of two sets per three-race weekend) plus mounting and balancing.

The F4 U.S. Championship is accessible at every level, from drivers graduating from karts, teams stepping up to Pro competition or fans attending a race weekend. This is possible by our series partners who are dedicated to the growth in open-wheel racing. This commitment has created an attainable, very affordable entry level into professional motorsports. With all F4 U.S. Championship cars designed and assembled in North America, parts availability and quality are assured. Ligier assembles the chassis at their facility in North Carolina and the Honda Civic Type R engines are produced at Honda's factory in Ohio. The F4 Hankook tires are the same Hankook tires used in other F4 series around the globe and are distributed and marketed out of Tennessee. The F4 U.S. Championship has transformed the landscape of racing and will continue to increase accessibility to open-wheel racing.

Hankook racing radial tires-competitors have a maximum allotment of 8 tires (four front, four rear) per race weekend.

Honda Performance Development's Honda K20 C1 2.0-liter engine was specially designed for the F4 U.S. Championship and is affordably leased on a yearly basis.

Ligier manufactured chassis meets stringent FIA safety standards and includes paddle shifters, data acquisition and camera.

The Sports Car Club of America (SCCA) has partnered with the Federation Internationale de l'Automobile (FIA) to create the Formula 4 United States Championship. The FIA is a global organization that aims to safeguard the rights and promote the interests of motorists and motorsports across the world. The FIA developed F4 in 2014 and has since flourished with 12 F4 FIA-approved series around the world.
